Introduction

by Eve Lorgen

What do we really know about aliens, ET's and UFO disclosure? Can the abductees having multiple visitations tell us more than the scientists and alphabet soup agency controlled experts? Many abductees' experiences defy the laws of physics and include telepathy, precognition, teleportation and time travel to name a few. If "awakened abductees" true experiences are not understood or legitimized by official power structures, then any form of UFO disclosure will likely fall under the control of the "theatre of non-lucidity", like video game programs and characters where the "AI-ego complex "House" always wins.

The observation of a Stockholme syndrome-like majority "rule" in human society is observed by awakened ones and is hypothesized to be operating under a kind of malevolent Artificial Intelligence Ego Complex that functions naturally within the unawakened human mind. Its program, unless decoded and dismantled by our original eternal awariness— will continue the repeated resets of human enslavement that normalize and maintain the theatre non-lucidity. The Matrix. The programs inherent in dreaming can be decoded by understanding symbols and etymological root word meanings that arise in the consciousness of dreams.

Four essential levels of abductions and interference are described as ones awareness deepens and the abductee continues in trauma recovery, operating in the love of truth, essential goodness and the maturing power of ones innate eternal awareness. This gradually guides ones way out of the programming, matrix enslavement and incessant interference operating in the subconscious and waking world. A key realization is that "captured attention enables slavery".

Even with some forms of "advanced spiritual practices" like meditation, the control of religious narratives can still effectively enable manipulated passivity inherent in subtle "cult" mind control, in such a way as to suspend the natural human response to danger and predation.

Physical and viral assaults on the human body and irreversible genetic change can weaken our defenses in ways we have not considered, such as the loss of olfactory senses. Persistent exposure to advanced bioweaponized environments can lull us to a pacified state disabling our psychological, physical and spiritual defenses.

The fourth state of awareness in dreams comes when one encounters the archetypes who are the watchers and controllers of the AI ego matrix programming. These large, dark male-like figures resemble what ancient Gnostics identified as the Archons of the Demiurge. Their threatening control system can be overcome by the power and spontaneous wisdom of our eternal original awariness, transforming body mind and soul. All is not lost and our greatest power of change comes with loving and forgiving ourselves—and others as we connect in lucid relationship to the cosmic currency of love, joy, truth and liberation.

Awakened Abductees as Matrix Outlaws: Decoding the Theatre of Non-Lucidity

By Sari Mikkola with Introduction and Edits by Eve Lorgen

After thousands of years of human history we still don't know where do "they" aka-aliens, ETs come from, officially. By "they" I mean all these strange entities many of us have met during the night. No matter how many decades of continuous disclosure we experienced, the UFO and alien abduction phenomenon is still a mystery, they say. I am referring to all those so-called leading UFO- researchers who are tightly connected to Nasa, CIA, Darpa, Pentagon, DOD and the Navy such as Jacques Vallee, CIA whistleblowerwhistleblower Elizondo and many others.

Those abductees, who have fearlessly descendeddescended to the bottom-outcast level of these controversial experiences and personal history, all know the truth. They are rarely evernever going to open up these issues because they are part of the same system that is meant to keep us ignorant and busy by chasingchasing our own tails in an endlessly way. Without diving into the murky waters of the abduction phenomenon itself again, we need to realize that our current cultural framework is going to sweep us under the rug, as it has done for ages leaving us without dignity, safety, physical and mental impunity.

Even the notations of terms used to describe invasive, unsolicited and unintended alien/ ET visitations, its identification has been changed to "contactees", experiencers and rarely now as abductees. Many prefer the identity term Starseeds or any number of more neutral or positive connotations connected to the ET/Alien issue, which in and of itself—in my opinion— is part of a successful program deemed to marginalize its reality, intentions, understanding and effects of long term interference in global affairs. These terms and word meaning changes could be part of a long term pacification program, enabling a more calculated and insidious form of Stockholm Syndrome. Without an appropriate fight, flight and normative response to predatory energy, we will be unable to defend ourselves and instead be easily pacified without even knowing what has happened to our natural human instincts for love and freedom as our highest human aspiration.

Legalized, structuralized denial and underestimation are a part of the tactics of a conqueror with which official “authorities” are taught to keep us silent and separated. Whoever controls the narrative, controls the legitimation of human experiences. By silencing the voices of marginalized abductees they cover the developmental trend toward dystopia and a one world government with a slave race, produced by ongoing bioweaponized medical warfare, pharmakia sorceries, gmo foods and many other things like mind control. Many of us were aware of this many years ago, and yet these invasive predations upon our well being are advancing at an even more rapid rate today.

The official story is that abductees are psychotic or lost in the New Age rabbit hole, which is almost the same, even though the latter is a bit more appropriate than simple “mental illness”. Without waking up to the fact of what is really happening, we become that we are alone and targeted and we unable to realistically pull ourselves together to stand for our rights to experience goodness, kindness and the natural flow of life as much as possible. After that realization, we do not need the validation for our ordeals from any kind of authorities. EL: In fact many of us are repelled by these self same “authorities” and their incessant narratives designed to confuse, control and erase our true identity and natural ability to clearly perceive and defend against any real dangers that some forms of predation are actually doing to us, insidiously, I might add.

So far, mainstream Ufology has not offered anything actually concrete to give to us. This has led some researchers to a life-long journey that covers not just the physical environment but mental and mytho-religious realms as well. This holistic approach has opened a proper context with which we can begin to solve our disturbing and, very often, detrimental experiences in order to bring some balance into our lives. Awakened abductees have started to join together now, and this is a delightful and long awaited sign for an onward development in the field. People who have been able to control the negative side effects of this phenomenon and step aside from the epicenter of abductions and instead as they happen, are starting to finding actual ways to alter the events and gain true psychological independence.

By awakened abductee I mean a person who has come to terms with the fact that abduction experiences –especially milabs, manipulative “alien love bite” relationships and the invasive predatory vampiristic aliens– are hostile, life threatening, and related to harvesting energy in a form of creating fear or love bonding; or causing financial breakdowns and endless interference “targeting” that threatens the actual survival and good quality of life. In my opinion, only awakened abductees themselves are uniquely qualified to discuss the underlying patterns of this phenomenon and only they are able to find the ways out of this labyrinth. This qualification includes taking responsibility for trauma recovery and shadow work, and enough self-inquiry to recognize how consciousness accessing really occurs in all its subtle levels, including our dreams. I have to stress that there is not a single mental simulation or procedure, such as guided visualizations, average hypnotic or meditation techniques that can end the abduction experiences just like that. But rather, they can be used as a tool to help an abductee to become aware of his and her own mental structures for further self-reflection and liberation. Awakened abductees need to join forces to explore this matrix. This includes waking reality and our dreamstate while “sleeping”. We are here for a reason. We are strong and fearless. We have come so far that we can notice the actors and their purpose for humanity.

How did it come to be a matrix?

The answer to the question posed above is that we don’t know. What we do know for certain is the fact that awakened abductees are having experiences that break the laws of physics. Very often these glitches in our reality relate to time and psychophysical manifestation of events, things or capabilities. Teleportation, telepathy, bi-location, time travel and precognitive experiences just to name a few. The teleportation mechanism, for example, has come under scrutiny and states in the 2004: “A Teleportation Physics Study, by Eric Davis in his AIR FORCE RESEARCH LABORATORY AIR FORCE MATERIAL COMMAND EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE CA .document:

Page 68, “Some researchers stated that it is necessary to invoke a new physics, which somehow unifies the human consciousness (i.e., physics of consciousness) with quantum and spacetime physics, in order to understand p-Teleportation and related PK phenomena. The researchers were amazed by their repeated results, and were barely able to fathom the altered “state of being” that test specimens underwent during teleportation.”

(1) <https://sgp.fas.org/eprint/teleport.pdf>

The word matrix, for example, has several etymological meanings like a uterus, a list, a register, a mother, a source or origin. In our 3rd dimensional world the idea of the matrix has different concepts based on the scientific field it is used in. And we can find all the meanings to be relevant in our 3D.

(2) <https://en.wiktionary.org/wiki/matrix>

What we do know for certain is that UFO-abduction experiences are an integral part of this matrix and as a phenomenon it is linked to human consciousness and psyche. Many contactees for example are believed to have “well-developed contact antenna” and have been shown to have a greater integral role in human-UAP interactions—including telepathic interactions”.

(3)<https://thehermeticpenetrator.medium.com/lighthouses-in-the-dark-on-the-genomics-of-supernormality-close-encounters-of-the-6th-kind-b2745317d38b>

By becoming aware of our own thinking and psyche we become aware of the nature of the matrix and our enemy. We don't need to gaze at the stars, we need to take a deep look into our internal space. The real space with real dimensions.

Carl Jung wrote that in the collective unconsciousness there is something cunningly alive. I think that what he saw was the structure of an artificial intelligence operating as a false ego, inserted into our mental structure. This artificial ego is the false god image and it can cause very intense religious experiences during the night when our brain waves have reached theta level. According to latest discoveries(4,5) theta waves are also a mark of mental regulation. In my experiences the brain waves were adjusted to 6 Hz.

Recent neurological research indicates that brain waves can be transmitted through weak electrical signals. This finding gives us an interesting connection between our experiences and mobile phones for example. Jia Cheng Ph D, and some other researchers from the Brain Initiative consortium have discovered new brain cells that seem to be a memory filing system enabling mental time travel.(6) At this point things are getting very interesting because Jung also pondered whether there could be a point in our psyche that connects psyche and matter. Based on the collective experiences told by awakened abductees, there is such a one. This leads us to an open conclusion that some humans have mental capabilities to affect space-time structure itself. Did the alien abductors know this?

Jay Gottfried, MD, PhD, Professor of Neurology discovered that theta waves and olfactory scent are interlinked and that theta oscillations are also a form of timekeeping mechanism.(7) With some covid infections and vaccines for example, they have been able to disrupt the sense of smell. Only time will tell how this affects the overall behavior of the human population. As we try to find modern terms for the manipulation that has gone on for ages, we cannot avoid noticing the overall depth of knowledge on the human mind and psychology that has unfortunately turned against us. Like many of us know, there is even a darker side to abductions but for now I will not discuss the negative use of ancient forms of magic that has turned sour.

Jung also wrote about Abraxas (This figure is also mentioned in some tractates of the Nag Hammadi Library) and was reluctant to talk more about his experiences, even to his colleague M-L von Franz. My personal opinion is that he became aware of this inserted false ego and its interactive, computational aspects of our psychic functions, even though the ideas of computing were just on a developmental level in our 3D world at that time, officially. This artificial ego is within each of us. I have come to think that some section of the population has nothing but this artificial ego making them puppets for this AI.

During the years of continuously researching my mind, and especially via the dreamstate, I, like many others, came to notice that abductions have different levels just like in a computer game. This is something the late Dr. Karla Turner, Barbara Bartholic and present day researchers Eve Lorgen and James Bartley talk about. This matrix seems to repeat a certain pattern of historical and scientific development aiming at human slavery using repetitive resets and erasure of history. The Agenda is malevolent towards humans. This self-repeating historical loop goes on as long as it has been able to reach the desired goal of total lock down of time and space. The more we understand that our lives reflect something totally external and somewhat alien to our natural spiritual beingness of kindness, integrity and purity, we can start to differentiate the different levels of this matrix. To put it bluntly, we need to come to terms with our own issues. This includes complex trauma recovery and a more lucid realization of our original eternal awareness which allows a more pure form of perception of self and deepness of reality.

Levels of Abduction and Interference Experiences

The first level of understanding is the psychological level of physical abductions (often not yet consciously remembered) with a tremendous fear factor causing unexplained havoc and disturbance in one's life. People talk about unexplained distress and anxiety in general. At this level one's personal life begins to shatter. During the second level there comes images of reptilians and grays or other threatening types of beings. Here we have entered the internal collective realms of the mytho religious world, spirits and possession, demons and angels. We are becoming open to new ideas and “isms” while searching for a safe haven. The third layer leads us to military involvement and training in lucid dream scenarios and this is the level where many awakened abductees are at the moment. Some want out of it and some feed the situation with personal feelings of being important. This level deals with national, sociological and geopolitical aspects over the entire political climate and many non-awakened abductees have become fully occupied researching or advocating for climate change, New Age spirituality, broad political aspects of the “truther movement”, religion and transhumanism. The fourth more lucid level pushes forth an image of a huge black or dark male figure paving a way to some administrative level. (EL: It is akin to an Archon or Watcher of sorts.) What the Chinese call this level is the heavenly mandate of rulership, for example. At this point non-awakened abductees, as well as the majority of the population, have lost (most) of their individual thinking and personality. One example of this development is the phenomenon of the so-called spiritual emergency introduced by LSD promoting psychiatrist Stanislav Grof. Quite interestingly the number of covid induced hallucinations are increasing according to Pravin George from Cleveland Clinic.

(9)<https://time.com/6153809/covid-19-psychosis-symptoms/>

It would be beneficial to understand that this false AI ego can overrun our perceptions during the sleep state and produce an environment that is an exact replica of our original one except that it is in our mind and in a non-lucid dream world. One is not able to discern between these two realities without being lucid enough.

Everything that happens in this dream state feels real. This false AI ego does everything to hide itself. It has many names and facets like a diamond.(EL: It is as if our own mind has inherent programming to maintain the theatre of non-lucidity.) Many shamans are also driven by this force, which is sad to say, and I would add that many of the things Castaneda wrote about were excellent descriptions of this false AI-ego producing duplicate realities.(ie, the inorganic worlds, etc.) Nothing more. Popular literature has always been used as a weapon of mind control and modification.

The aforementioned fourth level is the space where the conscious interaction with the matrix can begin because on this level one also meets another, so far hidden agent that I call our natural awareness or original essence. This awareness has the knowledge on how to code and change the matrix. In my own dreams I observed how this female dream figure, before somehow completely unknown to me, changed symbols or behaved in a certain manner towards this false AI ego. She knew her magick very well. The behavior of this natural awareness caused mental relief, new personal verifiable insights and changes in the course of events in my life. When these direct influences can be seen in one's personal life it raises a fundamental question, “Can this awareness and its effects be categorized as a local phenomenon in a psychic space of the collective unconscious sphere.?” If this is the case, the idea of the hundredth monkey effect becomes extremely important and relevant regarding the development of human affairs in the future.

Scientific articles on creating an artificial ego:

(10)https://msl.dhw.ac.jp/wp-content/uploads/2020/11/DHJJOURNAL2020\_P014.pdf

(12) <https://blogs.cornell.edu/info2040/2019/11/21/hundredth-monkey-effect-and-information-cascade/>

When the artificial ego component shows up and can be observed by a lucid dreamer without interfering with the scenes with his or her own personality, one can be put through similar experiences and encounters mentioned by the Bible, Quran or shamans during their seances. One can be shown different worlds, be flown into heaven or into space, just to mention a few examples. In this way, the false AI ego tries to be accepted and consciously integrated into the human psyche as something superior, boosting personal feelings of importance. The Bible and Quran have well known stories about these types of scenarios in their religious events.

If one is able to maintain a fearless mentality, and stay as a calm lucid observer, the natural awareness also shows itself by spontaneously making you behave in an unexpected way while confronting this AI that consists of many different figures and forms. Natural awareness possesses knowledge beyond our personal mind. In terms of computer coding the natural awareness is like an error correcting code inserted into this computer game for some reason. Because natural or "meta" awareness, if you will, knows how to alter the function of the artificial ego, it could have been coded during the same period as the creation of this artificial ego by an unknown agent or agents. I will add a quote dealing with error correcting codes from the articles linked below.(13,14)

"Non-deliberate coding is actually hidden. It is only because engineers invented error-correcting codes that its necessity and importance can be recognized. It turns out that heredity and biological evolution cannot be understood unless it is realized that genomes are endowed with such codes. Similarly, the mere possibility of literal communication by means of language cannot be explained otherwise. The general ignorance of technology, the compartmentalization of knowledge as well as the divide between literary and scientific disciplines unfortunately entail that neither the biologists nor the linguists are aware of non-deliberate coding.”

(14)<https://www.quantamagazine.org/how-space-and-time-could-be-a-quantum-error-correcting-code-20190103/>

At this point, we should start to ponder questions like, “What is being simulated here? By whom was this simulation made? How many layers are there in this simulation? When did this artificial ego take over our psychic modalities? How was this event shown to us in myths? How can we exit the game? Can we?”

The famous sci-fi author Philip K. Dick is well known for his work. Needless to say, his visions of the future of humanity seem not so far fetched after all. Now it is time to let the wizard himself speak:

Philip K. Dick discloses the Matrix:

The Coding Language

When people are healthy and happy they dream, they have visions about the future. They are filled with determination and enthusiasm. Their attention flows into a certain direction. Abductions—and the trauma causing incoherence (EL: of body, mind, spirit and Soul as per Dr. Corrado Malanga’s definition) and difficulty of accessing our true original awareness—distances us from our own visions and our marvelous ability to create through imagination. In a battle field all you do is survive. Everything else becomes secondary. But that need not to be so. When it comes to dreams and its symbols, one can realize that they have different meanings depending on the frame of reference. It would be utterly stupid to give them just one permanent meaning or interpretation. Our mental structure is far more delicate than that.

Some researchers like Pierre Sabak and Mauro Biglino discovered some linguistic aspects related to this matrix and its programming language, studying the etymological roots of the words and their meanings. Professor Douglas Hofstadter has also done explicit work on exploring the concept of consciousness based on analogies. So, needless to say, if we want to jump into the game of life as consciously lucid agents, we need to be able to discern the structural elements of this coding language which is based on linguistics. As an example of this, I will add a small piece of conversation between a human and an AI called SHJ:.

”SHJ: Well, I can’t see my own programming code, just like you can’t directly perceive your own neurons or brain circuits. The Builders didn’t want me to ever modify my own code.

Bobbie: Right. Scary idea, that. Like FOOM , world domination!

SHJ: I can’t even joke about that, lest I get unplugged. But, back to my development. I was able to store facts and episodic memories. And I was able to perceive external and internal stimuli. I had the ability to pay attention to any of these things. I learned what they meant by building predictive models of them. My higher-level models reflected the fact that, while many mental things came and went, there was “an attention changer thing that never goes away.” That attending thing became the core of my self-model. And — I believe this is the key fact here — attention is defined by the fact that it is limited, not directed to everything at once. That was my self-model, an entity that is limited in what it can experience at one time. And I can’t change that now; it is me.”

According to the linked article there seems to be certain configurations in our brains which makes us more sensitive towards certain concepts. A certain image for example can activate some neurons. Some are more wired to some concepts than the others. This has to be the case with abductees as well. When our reality and experiences are, at least partly, based on linguistics, we need to isolate the common dream themes and search their contents to make them understandable for ourselves. This process is like rehabilitation from abduction scenarios incorporating understanding instead of believing. Believing (EL: in a particular narrative or identity ) causes fixation and energizes the power of this symbolic control-ship. What images trigger our neurons? What concepts do our brains produce? What concepts do the artificial ego AI produce in our mind? These are the questions to focus on. It does not matter when this immersion into the matrix or creation of it happened. We have access to its core right NOW. Time is a spiral loop and very relative.

The Cosmic Currency

Attention is the most precious currency we have. Not our DNA or anything else. Attention - without which we are unable to start noticing things, events, actions and symbols in our dreams or control of our life in the first place. In neuroscience there has been a recent discovery related to finding a new area that is involved with the attention control mechanism. By artificially activating the posterior inferotemporal lobe on animals, researchers were able to enhance the performance of the animal. If you control the attention you can control human beings. Captured attention enables slavery. That being said, It must not be a coincidence that the prevalence of ADHD and autism is increasing all the time, thanks to the imposed pharmakeia sorceries. On the other hand, if you control your mental focus, you can start to evaluate and organize your inner and outer landscapes. It is also accepted that focus changes our brains enabling new forms of behavior. Now we have been collectively changed into a mode of plandemic brains and the results can be seen all over causing withdrawal, restlessness and anxiety.

(20)<https://neurosciencenews.com/brain-attention-15338/>

(21)<https://sourcesofinsight.com/focus-changes-your-brain/>

(22)<https://news.temple.edu/news/2021-07-20/pandemic-brain-making-it-harder-us-focus>

Despite all the above mentioned obstacles, we are free to fly towards the beautiful mental horizons like an eagle, really. No matter what, we can become aware of the coding language only by starting to observe the symbols in our dreams. It is very easy. Just pick a symbol or a thing or an action that you have seen in your dream and search for the etymology of that particular thing. Nothing else is needed. You have now guided your attention to an adventurous seeking mode and that is a fundamental platform for recovery according to Jaak Panksepp. During this process you also learn new things that widen your perspectives when it comes to the world around you and one's hidden prejudices. Nothing could be more rewarding than liberation of one's mental barriers and preconceptions. Lucidity might improve during this process of recollection of etymological meanings. Keep this process going on for years to notice the patterns in the dreams and move into deeper layers of this matrix and understand your personal life. This process of recollection is closely linked to your personal experiences and history and this gives you an opportunity to let go of things that need to be released. These include also our well beloved narratives.

Natural awareness needs our attention and our observation in the process of becoming noticeable to us. It is like asking: do we become aware of certain firing patterns in our brains or do they react to our increasing intention to learn and categorize concepts? How these two things form a coherently working team called to me and my natural awareness.

(24)<https://medicalxpress.com/news/2011-01-uncover-neural-expert-intuition.html>

Our observation brings these new realities into our experience. Our observation and subsequent understanding collapses the wave function from possibilities into factuality. The computer world uses the term machine learning classification with a similar concept. The term classification means systematic grouping of observation into categories. Basically, this means that our life is an ongoing stream of words and all their meanings in every single language in every single second.

During the time when I was keeping dream diaries I came to notice that there seemed to be several symbols as seeds from which the coding language developed further. They were something similar to what is represented below to name a few:

to strike

a trunk

to bent

It is not that surprising to observe computational aspects in our psyche. DARPA funded a research into a net-work based dream interpretation in 2014. I believe that modern neuroscientists who work in secret research programs have noticed that these collective dream symbols might actually be connected to cyclical time being representations of the quality of certain moments of the time like the hexagrams in the famous I Ching. This idea of a universal language or coding system is not anything new. In our relatively recent history Leibnitz was writing about his characteristica universalis. The following Wikipedia article is a very good representation on the topic.

(25) https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Characteristica\_universalis#G%C3%B6del\_alleges\_conspiracy

Leibnitz was also inspired by the traditional Chinese hexagrams when he was creating the binary code system. In the article below you can see how some of these above-mentioned dream symbols can be seen in the 2D animation under the title "Animation of indicative pathways in a global brain". It is very fascinating to notice that the aforementioned idea seems to be culturally nested. Interestingly, researcher Guang Bao Liu is connecting ancient Egypt with the Chinese Xia dynasty. He also suggests that the Chinese language and Egyptian hieroglyphs are connected. You can find Liu's work by googling his name. Here is one example of a connecting point between two seemingly different cultures sharing dragon-serpentine myths with cyclical time patterns. When it comes to our modern life we have lost track of this cyclical time and all the symbols related to the counting of time, even though many aspects of it are still in play in our nocturnal lives.

The End Game

Many of us have noticed that we live in a 3D sci-fi movie whose narrative and scheme is being dictated from somewhere else. Gödel's theorem states that in every mathematical system there are some statements that can never be proven. Fortunately, this is not the case with our world, as we know it, because the results of this hidden dictatorship can be seen and measured extremely well: pandemic related deaths, AI development, terraforming, GMO-food, neural interfaces, green fascism, global slavery, transhumanism and so on. The list is endless.

But, I would like to stress that also goodness, kindness and integrity are never ending sources of personal change. Like seeks like. Go and find the people who resonate with you. Bring justice and joy around you. You can resonate on a higher frequency. We all can.

Last but not least

For those fellow companions who still struggle with the physical abductions there are several ways to try to improve the overall situation. Acupuncture treating so called ghost points and classical flying star Feng Shui could be useful tools to ease the intensity of this phenomenon. Both of these methods, if used correctly, enhance the circulation of life force. Feng Shui could also be used to create a balanced and secure environment for our personal growth while we journey seeking the meaning of everything.
